A RICHMOND PAPER FOR RICHMOND PEOPLE

TODAYS ODDITY

EUREKA, Oct. 11.—Anaesthetic taken in the dentist chair while he was having a tooth pulled, proved fatal for James Miller, 27, this week.

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

With the passing of Congressman C. F. Curry Friday night, the citizens of Richmond lost one of their best friends. For years Congressman Curry devoted his efforts to aiding this city. It was through his aid that we now have our marvelous harbor.

In speaking of Curry last night, P. M. Sanford, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, declared that "Richmond has lost a pillar of strength and a staunch and loyal friend."

The problem of "racketeering" in labor unions was discussed at the recent A. F. of L. meeting held in Boston.

President Green of the Federation declared that every member of the group stands pledged with him to drive out the gangsters.

A friend from Chicago tells us many interesting things about labor "rackets" and other grafts of the gangmen.

He told of the window washers' union. Every man in a certain district was forced to pay protection to the "union" or suffer the penalty of having their windows broken by rocks.

Many were forced to pay the protection. Others who didn't paid glass bills until they changed their minds and "kicked through."

Must be a great life, this racket business.

Another racket, so he tells us, is the garage game. Garage owners were forced, he said, to pay tribute to gangs. Otherwise fine cars parked in the place would be scratched and damaged by gangsters. If this failed to work, a bomb was thrown into the garage.

Ponzi was a piker compared to some of these gangsters.

Now that St. Mary's football game is over, some of our fans are walking around saying "I told you so." How we hate that type of a person.

You can easily tell who rooted for what team by a look at their faces.

But in a few days it will all be forgotten, except for the collection of bets and Old Wives' Tales in the pool rooms.

Ever notice how these fine cars are copying European patterns.

Recently a famous car company announced new models that look exactly like some of the finest machines the Old World produces.

Don't forget the Legion football game this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the high school field.

Two Burned In Airplane Crash

REVERE, Mass., Oct. 11.—UP—Two aviators were burned to death at Muller Field here late today when the American Eagle biplane in which they were about to land, nose-dived to earth from a height of about 500 feet and burst into flames.

The dead: Victor Uttigff, 35, of Rockport, attached to the Gloucester coast base.

John O'Toole, 24, of Winthrop, proprietor of the Beacon Air Service at Muller Field.

Charges Made In Oil Shale Case

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—UP—The charges of Ralph S. Kelley that the Interior Department showed favoritism to large oil companies in granting claims to Colorado shale oil lands came to the attention of Dr. Hubert Work when he was secretary of the department, but were not deemed sufficient to warrant a change in policy, it was learned today.

E. C. Finney, solicitor for the Interior Department, said Kelley's statement in the New York World that Finney had refused to acquaint Work with Kelley's reports was "not in accord with the facts."

Brazilian Army Troop Train Wrecked, Report Says HURLEY ON BUILDERS COMMITTEE

CITY OFFICIAL BACK FROM MEETING

City Building Inspector and Mrs. A. J. Hurley, have returned this week from Long Beach, where Hurley attended the convention of the Pacific Coast Building Officials' Conference.

According to Hurley, there were approximately 200 city building officials from points all up and down the coast, and also from the western states such as Idaho, Utah, Nevada and Wyoming.

Building regulations and the proposition of a uniform building code, which has been adopted by 84 cities including Richmond, comprised the principal business of the meet.

S. P. Koch of Berkeley was elected president of the group; A. J. Bird of Vancouver B. C. was elected first vice president; C. D. Walles of Long Beach was elected second vice president, and D. H. Merrill of Long Beach was re-elected secretary-manager. Next year's convention will be held in Berkeley.

Hurley was elected to a three-year term on the executive committee at the convention.

Mrs. Hurley also reports an enjoyable visit in the southern city, and returned with three lovely prizes she won at bridge parties.

LIONS CLUB TO HEAR BANKER

Ward McCracken, the oldest charter member of the Richmond Lions club, will be the chairman of Tuesday's noon meeting of the club in the Hotel Carquinez.

McCracken has obtained as the speaker of the day, Joseph Crumb, supervisor of research of the State of California banking department. Crumb has not yet announced his subject, but McCracken is assuring the members it will be well worth hearing.

Ladies Night will be observed Oct. 24, and Harry Tyler of the Sacramento Junior college, will be the speaker.

The affair will be held at the Hotel Carquinez, and is expected to be one of the successful social affairs of the season.

November 14 the local club will visit the El Cerrito Lions and take charge of the meeting. George Barnett, chairman of the local club for the day, has arranged a suitable program.

Two Held On Liquor Charges

A preliminary hearing of the case of A. Turkovich, 53, of 5010 Clinton avenue, and Charles Sandretti, 45, of Liberty street, El Cerrito, will be given before Justice of the Peace A. A. Alstrom Tuesday.

The two men are facing charges of illegal possession of liquor. They were arrested recently by Clyde Laird, chief of the Contra Costa county dry squad. A small quantity of liquor was reported at both places.

Mail Delivery To Be Extended

Postmaster John A. Miller yesterday announced extension of the local mail delivery system to the harbor section adjacent to the new Ford factory. The delivery will be daily each morning, and among the industries served will be the Ford factory, the Filice and Perrelli cannery and the Parr Terminal.

Asks Bigger Navy

CONGRESSMAN Richard Welch, San Francisco, has completed inspection of Mare Island, Cal., Navy yard. In an address delivered before a large group of employes and officials at the yard, Welch stressed the need for a larger navy. Left to right: Capt. Thomas Kearney, acting commandant Mare Island; Welch, Dr. J. J. Hogan and T. J. O'Hara of Vallejo, Chamber of Commerce.

CURRY RITES ON MONDAY

Memorial services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist church for the late Congressman C. F. Curry. It was announced last night. The services will be attended by Richmond citizens who will pay honor to the late congressman, who was a friend of the city of Richmond.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10:30 tomorrow morning at Washington, D. C., for the late Congressman Charles F. Curry, according to word received here. The funeral will be held from the Drunkard's chapel at 301 East Capitol street, Washington, with Rev. Windham of the Episcopal church officiating.

Interment will be in Arlington National cemetery. Vice President Curtis named the following senators to attend the services: Thomas of Idaho, Harlan of Georgia, Fess of Ohio, Swanson of Virginia and Nye of North Dakota.

As a result of the death, the secretary of state yesterday ruled that Currys name should be removed from the ballot at the coming election, leaving a blank in which the name of any desired candidate may be written in by the voter.

Several candidates for the post were rumored yesterday. It is possible that Charles F. Curry, Jr., son of the deceased, will be named as the write-in candidate.

Spain Hit By New Disorders

MALAGA, Spain, Oct. 11.—UP—Civil Gov. Alfredo Felipeo called upon the civil guardia and police today to meet with "great energy" the local strike disorders which are of a revolutionary character.

All bars and taverns were closed and shutters were up on most of the city's shops as heavy mounted and infantry patrols guarded the streets.

Stage, Bus Crash Inquest Tuesday

Inquest into the deaths of two passengers killed in the auto bus-lumber truck crash near Pinole a week ago will be held Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at Wilson and Kratzer's chapel. Coroner Aubrey Wilson will conduct the inquest.

Roy Kimball was instantly killed in the crash, while P. Sprachlin died of his injuries.

Dollar Days To Be Held This Week

Citizens of Richmond will enjoy the benefits of a two-day Dollar Day event here this week.

Tuesday and Wednesday Richmond merchants will display a line of first class merchandise, which may be purchased at a tremendous saving.

It is expected that the annual dollar day event here will be one of the largest ever held by the local merchants.

ONE HELD IN KNIFING AFFRAY

MARTINEZ, Oct. 11.—One man is in the Marine hospital, San Francisco, in a critical condition and another is being held in the county jail here, as the aftermath of a stabbing affray aboard the Tulsagas, an Associated Oil company's tanker early this morning.

Roy Palmer, 30, steward of the boat, is the wounded man, and is suffering from a serious stab in his chest and another on the side of his head.

Although he refused to say who committed the deed, authorities are holding Tom Knight, 31, a deck hand for investigation.

Credolo Rites To Be Held Tuesday

Funeral services for Evelyn Credolo, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Credolo of San Pablo, will be held from the St. Paul's church at 9 a. m. Tuesday. Curry's parish is handling arrangements and interment will follow at the St. Joseph's cemetery.

The child passed away at the family home yesterday morning after a brief illness.

Two Sentenced For Wire Theft

MARTINEZ, Oct. 11.—Robert Snodgrass, 23, and his brother, Earl Snodgrass, 20, both of Oakland, were sentenced to 60 days in the county jail today on charges of stealing lead from the Union Oil refinery.

CRUISER IS SENT TO SOUTH

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Oct. 11. UP—Unconfirmed reports today said a train carrying 1,000 federal troops from Sao Paulo to the port of Santos had been derailed on a curve and fallen some 1,600 yards down a mountainside.

The 30-mile railroad route from Sao Paulo to Santos is over a rough and dangerous region.

The train, heavily loaded with federal troops, left Sao Paulo this morning for Santos. The unconfirmed reports said it was derailed on a sharp curve, falling to the bottom of the Sierra de Mar mountains. Details and the extent of the casualties were not ascertained.

The railway connecting the great coffee port of Santos with Sao Paulo, the state capital, situated on an upland plateau, runs in a northeasterly direction for nearly 50 miles. It ascends from the sea over a beautiful coast range. Its high trestles span river gorges and ravines of great depth. The mountain sides along the way are buttressed with huge works of solid masonry against rock slides.

Storm Forces Fliers Down

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 11.—UP—Laura Ingalls and Robert Buck braved uncertain weather conditions today to reach Albuquerque on their transcontinental flight.

Miss Ingalls arrived at 1:50 p. m. from Winslow, Ariz., followed 15 minutes later by Buck. Bad weather forced them to land at Winslow on their way to Albuquerque.

They will remain here tonight. Buck is seeking to establish a west-east junior transcontinental flight record, while Miss Ingalls is pointing for the women's west-east record.

Ocean Fliers Postpone Hop

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Oct. 11.—UP—Russell Boardman, Boston aviator, today announced postponement of his proposed transatlantic flight to the vicinity of Constantinople pending favorable weather conditions.

Boardman and his co-pilot, John Polando, had planned to leave shortly after midnight in the Bellanca monoplane, American Legion, but adverse weather reports influenced the postponement.

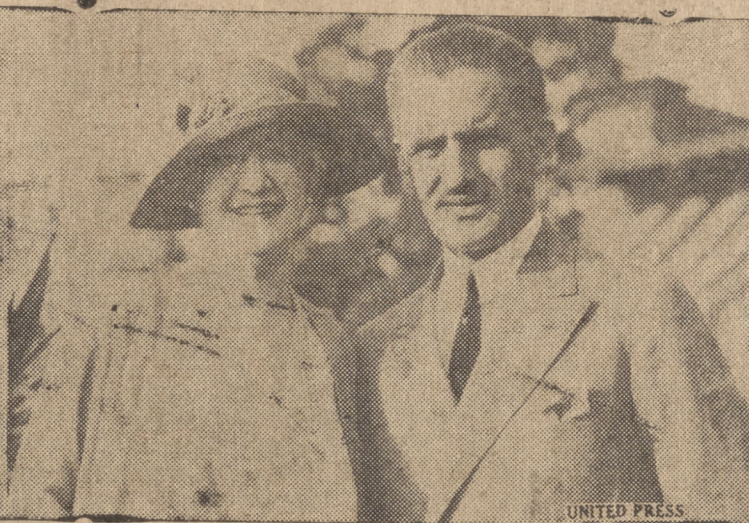

Roy Ammel, Chicago flier, was not at Roosevelt Field today and his Lockheed-Sirus plane, Blue Flash, remained in its hangar, indicating that Ammel also is awaiting more favorable weather for a transatlantic flight.

Hall Sanders To Address Students

The second of a series of talks on the American Legion school awards will be made Tuesday by Hall Sanders, Richmond attorney. Sanders will speak at the Roosevelt junior high school at 9:30 and at the Longfellow junior high school at 1:15.

These will be the last talks before the awards are made on Nov. 10.

OCEAN PLANE AT LONDON

LONDON, Oct. 11.—UP—The five year old monoplane Columbia reached Croyden airfield today, after overcoming the dangers of storms and freezing temperatures on its second eastward flight across the north Atlantic ocean.

The Columbia fought severe northern storms, flew through low temperatures which threatened to cause ice to form on its wings, soared eastward for hours in "blind" weather and exhausted virtually every drop of fuel just as it reached land for the first time after leaving Newfoundland at 11:20 a. m. EST on Thursday.

The first land sighting was the rocky little Isle of Treco, in the Scilly group, off the southwest tip of England, and there Capt. J. Errol Boyd of Canada and Lieut. Harry P. Connor of the United States naval reserve landed the veteran plane Friday to end the first stage of their trans-Atlantic flight. Today they continued to Croyden, completing the flight of some 2400 miles from Harbor Grace, N. F.

MRS. WHITNEY AIDS SUSPECTS

MARTINEZ, Oct. 11.—Jailed on vagrancy charges for the distribution of "The Oil Workers Organizer" among Shell company employes, two Oakland youths, John Multigli 21, and Joseph Andino, 20, occupy jail cells in default of bail fixed at $1000 each.

Miss Anita Whitney, wealthy Oakland woman, recently pardoned for alleged syndicalist activities during the war period and a leader in communist activities of the east bay for years, yesterday with a companion came to the aid of the youths and attempted to be rate the court for establishing what they termed "exorbitant" bail. They were silenced however by Justice Glass and Deputy District Attorney R. L. Boyer.

Trial for the two is set for next week. The mimeographed pamphlet which they were circulating was "issued by the Communist nucleus of the Shell Oil company, Martinez, Calif." according to its own statement.

THE WEATHER
Unsettled today and tomorrow; occasional showers.

BLUEBEARD IS HUNTED

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—George W. E. Perry, the modern Bluebeard who, it was charged, lured at least four women into marriage by promises of wealth and gave one of them on her honeymoon, was believed to be hiding today somewhere in Arkansas or Missouri.

While the search for Perry was pushed in five other states, it centered at Blytheville, Ark., where he had left an automobile once owned by Cora Belle Hackett, who was slain on a Wisconsin Indian reservation a few weeks after she was married to Perry in Chicago.

Leaving the automobile as security for a $150 loan, Perry promised to return to Blytheville yesterday, but did not do so. Police obtained information which led them to believe, however, that he either was in that vicinity or in St. Louis.

After leaving his second wife, Kathryn Gebhart Perry, in Cleveland early in July, Perry made marriage proposals to Leda Downey of El Dorado, Ill., and Dorothy Davis, 21, of Blytheville, authorities learned. It was considered likely he would return to Blytheville to see Miss Davis.

Miss Downey, it was found, accepted the proposal and, not knowing Perry already had wives in Cleveland and Chicago did was charged with killing another in Wisconsin, was married to him at Carmi, Ill., August 16. Then, he left her as he had the others.

Perry first was suspected of murder and bigamy when the body of Mrs. Hackett was found on the Lac du Flambeau Indian reservation in northern Wisconsin a week ago. Mrs. Hackett had been shot in the head. On June 16 she had been married in Chicago to Perry, whom she met through a newspaper advertisement. Friends said she gave him $500 after the marriage and that they started on their honeymoon in her automobile.

This was the same machine that has been found in Arkansas and which, police say, Perry drove to Cleveland on July 7, four days after Mrs. Hackett last was heard from.

Mary Perry, the first wife, so far as is known that Perry had, lives in Chicago. She says he left her several years ago after her third child was born.

Captain's Body Found In Mystery

ANTHWERP, Oct. 11.—UP—Fear that the Belgian steamer Tigris of 2737 tons was lost with a crew of 33 men, was expressed by officials today after the body of the vessel's master was found on the shore at Dunkirk.

BOY CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS

Crushed and mangled between two cars at San Pablo and Macdonald avenues last night, an unidentified youth about 20 years old is in a critical condition at the Hospital Richmond today.

His right leg was so badly mangled, hospital attaches say, that amputation was necessary.

It was believed last night he would recover. With the exception of a laundry tag from Sacramento, and a card with a hotel address on it, no marks of identification were in his possession.

According to police reports, a machine operated by C. H. Collins of Oakland, stalled at the Santa Fe crossing.

Another machine, believed to be bearing the youth and a number of companions, swerved around Collins' automobile to avoid an accident, witnesses say, and the boy jumped out to push the stalled car.

As he was pushing Collins' machine, a car, driven by Henry Mortinola of Ukiah, crashed into the rear of the stalled car, pinning the lad between. Police say the companions of the youth did not interfere.

Mortinola declared he was driving under 25 miles per hour and just as he was coming to a stop, another machine crashed into him from the rear.

The youth was rushed to the Hospital Richmond by a Wilson and Kratzer ambulance, where it was decided the amputation was necessary.

ELKS ENJOY LADIES NIGHT

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the present social season was held last night at the Elks clubroom, when the Richmond lodge of Elks observed Ladies Night.

A large crowd was present in spite of the inclement weather.

During the evening dancing was enjoyed and refreshments served. Barney Weisgerber's orchestra furnished the music.

Burglar Suspect Will Face Court

Hector Caballero is being held in the Richmond city jail following his alleged confession to burglarizing the S. D. Garcia barber shop at 117 Macdonald avenue and to stealing a watch from Mr. and Mrs. L. Armento of Richmond. He will appear before Justice of the Peace A. A. Alstrom Monday.

Caballero was yesterday arrested by Captain L. E. Jones and Sgt. Charles Mahan. He was unable to give any address.

Caballero confessed to recently stealing a large quantity of razors, clippers and other barber implements from the Garcia barber shop.

Auto Supply Co. To Move Store

A permit was yesterday issued by Building Inspector A. J. Hurley to the Western Auto Supply company to remodel a store situated at Thirteenth and Macdonald avenue at a cost of $500.

The Western Auto Supply company is now located at Eleventh street and Macdonald avenue. It plans to enter the new store within two or three weeks.

LEGION FOOTBALL TEAM MEETS CITY OF PARIS ELEVEN

OUTBOARD RACE PROGRAM HERE TODAY

The surface of the Richmond inner harbor will this afternoon be cut by the tiny bows of more than 30 outboard motor boats that will be competing in the third outboard regatta to be sponsored by the Richmond Boating association.

Outboard drivers from all sections of northern California have announced their intentions of entering the meet. Among the racing ranks will be drivers from Stockton, Palo Alto, Lodi, San Jose and many other towns in this section of the state.

The meet, which is being held under the auspices of the Northern California Outboard association, will start at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Either four races or one continuous race will be run off today.

Much valuable merchandise has been donated as prizes for today's outboard regatta. Prizes have been presented by the Mechanics Bank, La Moine Drug company, Western Auto Supply company, Conn Drug company, McKracken's Clothiers, Schow's Clothing store, Richmond Produce company, Standard Oil company, Associated Oil company and the Pennzoil Oil company.

A public announcing system is being furnished for the races by the Standard Oil company. The Bell Telephone company is also installing a telephone line between the various stations on the course of the races.

A speedy outboard motor boat will be given away at the Richmond Boating association club house on the inner harbor at four o'clock this afternoon.

The two outboard regattas that have already been sponsored by the Richmond Boating association were real successes, and the local club has earned a reputation for staging fast, interesting races. Therefore, it is expected that today's meet will be a sporting event of first importance in northern California boating annals.

Soccer Club Will Tangle With Crockett

The Soccer club will today tangle with Crockett in the first contest of the league season.

There is a large probability that Richmond will be able to bring the championship to Richmond this year. Last season the locals reached the finals of the league competition. This year's team includes many veterans, and should go far in league competition.

The athletes who will probably see action today are: Goal, Brock, fullbacks, Froese and W. Blair, halfbacks, Baker, P. Blair, and Long; forwards, Meserup, Brain, Gleason and Hood; reserves, Russell, Moore and Francioni.

Uclans Win In Grid Game With Pomona College

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—UP—The University of California at Los Angeles experienced unlooked for difficulty today in defeating an old rival, Pomona college, 21 to 0. The collegians from Claremont battled Coach Bill Spaulding's heavier Bruins in every stage of the game and only by hard luck were they kept from scoring on several occasions.

The Bruins had an edge throughout and played a heads-up brand of football which netted three touchdowns.

Jones, a bulky U. C. L. A. guard, furnished the most sensational play of the game when he intercepted Putnam's pass in the final quarter to gallop 60 yards thru the Sagehen eleven for a touchdown.

Another UCLA touchdown, in the third quarter, came as the direct result of Smith's recovery of Ingram's fumble on Pomona's 13-yard line. The Sagehen held for two downs, and then Captain Solomon threw a short pass to Maulhaupt over the goal for a score. Decker, halfback made the other touchdowns for the winners in the first quarter.

Potatoes Damaged By Queer Malady

GILCREST, Colo.—Digging of early potatoes, the first shipments of which have been made, develops the fact that the output this year will be decreased, almost 5 percent by ravages of a mysterious disease similar to leaf roll, but which has not yet been classified by plant experts.

YALE DEFEATED BY GEORGIA U.

YALE BOWL, New Haven, Oct. 11.—UP—Georgia University's foot ball team fought from behind to day to defeat Yale, 18 to 14.

In a game marked by spectacular runs and fumbles, the Bulldogs of the south beat the eastern brand by producing the winning punch in the fourth quarter.

With Yale apparently safely out in front, leading by two points, "Buster" Mott scrambled through the line for a long gain late in the final period and Jack Roberts slammed his way through for the deciding touchdown.

The echoes of the starting whistle still were sounding thru the bowl when Austin Downs, Georgia quarterback, received the opening kick-off and sprinted 75 yards for a touchdown.

Yale evened the count and went ahead by half time when Albie Booth drove through the Southwestern line for a touchdown in the second period and converted for the extra point.

The third quarter began quite as spectacularly as the first since Weddington Kelly, substitute Georgia wingman, fumbled the kick-off and the ball popped into the arms of Herbert Barres, who sprinted 20 yards for a touchdown. Sullivan kicked a placement goal to make it 14 to 6.

A moment later, however, Spurgeon Chandler threw a pass to "Cattfish" Smith who crossed the Eli line for another touchdown. "Cattfish" missed his try for goal and Yale still seemed safely out in front.

Local Netmen Will Meet With Bella Vista Club

The Richmond City Hall courts will this morning be the scene of the first inter-club tennis tournament held here this season.

The Richmond netmen will today face the Bella Vista club athletes of Oakland. The tournament is scheduled to start at 9:30 o'clock. Eight singles matches and four doubles will be played between the local and visiting players.

The most notable athletes of local courts will represent the Richmond Tennis association in its clash with the Bella Vista club today. Included in the local squad are Phil Carlin, Irwin Sutton, James Hurley, Darrow Sutton, Fred Childs, Jack Murdock, Howard Ellgood, Lou Ellgood and Dan Lemes.

WINTER BALL LOOP WILL START

With four local teams as members, the Oakland Winter Baseball league will get under way today on eastbay diamonds.

The local nines in the league are the Richmond Odd Fellows, Richmond Modern Woodmen of America, Richmond Y. M. I. and the Pullman Service Station.

Other members of the league are Rodeo, Rola club of Oakland, Rich Pie company and the Oakland Firemen.

The Richmond Y. M. I. athletes are scheduled to meet the Oakland Firemen this afternoon at First street at 2 o'clock.

The Richmond Odd Fellows will tangle with the Rola club of Oakland today on the San Pablo diamond at 2:30 o'clock. Peacock and Cauldron will be the lodge-men's battery.

The Richmond Modern Woodmen of America and the Pullman Service Station will cross bats this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Albany Park.

The five teams from Contra Costa county entered this year's Oakland Winter league when plans for a county league failed to consummate.

The league schedule will end Jan. 11. Games will be played every Sunday here and in Oakland.

All of the eight teams in the circuit have played a prominent part in eastbay baseball, and should be reckoned upon to provide a close, fast brand of competition in the 1930 Oakland Winter league.

Little Bacteria In Municipal Pool

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—The municipal swimming pool here has fewer germs per cubic inch than the water most people use for drinking. Carroll Walden, pool superintendent claims. The bacteria count has been as low as zero several days and never goes over 40. The U. S. government allows count of 300 for swimming pools and 700 for drinking water.

All of these racquet wielders have earned fine reputations for themselves in either local, county, state or Pacific Coast competition. These athletes last year banded together to form a strong team that carried itself creditably in inter-club competition. This same team may be reckoned upon to represent Richmond favorably in today's tourney with the Bella Vista aggregation.

GAME WILL BE STARTED AT TWO

Local football fans who have not yet seen the Richmond Post of the American Legion eleven in action, will have their last opportunity for a few weeks, today when the local team tangles with the City of Paris squad from San Francisco on the Richmond Union high school field. The kick-off is scheduled for 2 p. m.

Today marks the third successive Sunday game played here by the local squad, which will start traveling next Sunday when it meets Antioch American Legion on the latter team's home grounds.

Nov. 2 the locals will journey to Santa Rosa where they will meet the 1929 state champions, and according to Dan "Hap" Bradley, several other out of town games are scheduled.

Night Game
Tentative arrangements are going forward for a night game with the Oakland Athletic club in the Neptune Beach stadium in Alameda. Bradley has announced, although no definite date has yet been set. Claude Samples, versatile coach of the Richmond squad, has devoted a week of nightly practice on signals and formations, and believes he has eliminated the ragged playing evident in the first two games of the season.

The only night the Legionnaires have had off this week was Thursday, when Samples took the squad to the Richmond Union high school game for "a little variety," he said.

Team Good
Reports from San Francisco indicate the City of Paris is a team well worthy of the local squad's best efforts, and a close, hard fought game is anticipated.

Samples' announced starting lineup, which includes several reserves is as follows: Dixon and B. MacAllister, ends; Carson and Adcock, tackles; M. Irwin and Frazier, guards; Myers, center; Youngs, quarter; MacAllister and Hurley, halfbacks and E. Jester, fullback.

Samples, exceedingly optimistic for him, is figuring on one or more touchdowns each quarter, and should the above lineup not prove sufficient to fulfill his wishes, he has one of the strongest American Legion squads in this vicinity to fall back upon.

Team To Play
According to his announcement last night, all members of the squad will see action today.

In the backfield Samples has a proven group of players to choose from which includes: Clarke, J. MacAllister, Paillo, Cornell, Lemlich and Hurley at halfback position; Earl Jester and Freeman at the fullback post and Youngs as quarterback.

The Legion squad this year has an exceptionally strong line, with Cooper, Pitts, Milne, MacAllister, F. Sheehy, Dixon and Y. Jester at ends; Bonneville, Adcock, Burton and Carson at tackles; Peters, Frazier, Necker, S. Sheehy, B. Irwin and M. Irwin at guards and Myers holding the center position.

No Defeats
The local team has not lost a game to date, having defeated the Acorn Athletic club of Oakland two weeks ago by a 6 to 0 score and having tied the Ashby Athletic club 6 to 6 last week.

In both games the Legionnaires outplayed their opponents, keeping the ball in the visitor's territory almost the entire game. Last week, after outplaying, outgeneraling and out-fighting the Ashby club thru-out three quarters, a long pass that slipped out of the air from nowhere, to be received by a player that did the same thing, tied the score.

There will be no accidents of this kind today, Samples has declared, as the coach has decided to play Myers in a roving center position, which will place five men in the backfield on defense. When intermittent showers threatened last night Bradley announced the game will be played rain or shine.

NOTRE DAME IN WIN OVER NAVY

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 11.—UP—Notre Dame christened its swanky new football stadium today by defeating the United States Naval Academy 26 to 2.

The victory served notice on the football world that Knute Rockne's colorful team again will be prominent in the race for the mythical national championship.

The story of the game is chiefly the story of jumping Joe Savoldi, a powerfully built Italian youth from Three Oaks, Mich. They say Joe throws rivets for the iron workers during his summer vacations. This afternoon he threw Navy Bill Ingram's best tacklers right and left while he galloped down the transplanted sod of the new stadium for three of his team's four touchdowns.

Savoldi is weak on the defensive, they say, but if so he had no chance to show any weakness. Playing fullback for the first string because of an injury to "Moon" Mullins, Joe lost no time in getting to business. Early in the second quarter, he broke off Navy's left tackle for a dash of 23 yards and the first touchdown of the game. A few minutes later, he duplicated the stunt, only this time it was a dash of about 55 yards that preceded the score. Each time the scoring play was a short lateral pass tossed by Marty Brill, a sturdy halfback who once spent a brief period at Pennsylvania.

In the third period, Savoldi counted again, this time smashing through the right side of the Navy line for eight yards. Frank Carideo last year's all-American quarterback, converted two of his tries for the extra point.

To hear out what the experts say about the lesser lights among his 100 odd players, Rockne's men scored the final touchdown with a group of third and fourth stringers. The tally was credited to Staab, an obscure fullback, but it was Clarence Kaplan, a fast stepping back from Minnesota, who did most of the work.

Starting from deep in his own territory, Kaplan dashed to the Navy 23-yard line on two brilliant runs. Leahy went to the one yard mark on the next play and Staab went over the goal a moment later.

Navy was outclassed throughout and averted a shutout only because of slips by Notre Dame substitutes.

The score came when center Agnew passed wildly to Mahoney who was back of his own goal preparing to punt. Mahoney downed the ball for a safety, giving Navy two points.

CALIFORNIA IN VICTORY OVER ST. MARY'S

CALIFORNIA STADIUM, Oct. 11.—UP—The Golden Bears of California won a bitterly fought game here today when they vanquished St. Mary's of Moraga by the score of 7 to 6. More than 78,000 persons who packed the stadium.

As the fourth quarter opened Henry Schalldach, California's star halfback, passed over the goal line to Russell Avery, an end, to tie the score and then Schalldach made a perfect drop kick to give the Bears the winning point.

Bud Toscani had gone through California's left tackle in the second quarter from the one-yard line to make the Galloping Gaels single touchdown and Harry Edging failed to convert.

Hard Game
The outstanding player of the game was Schalldach, who broke through several times for runs of more than 10 yards, passed expertly and punted out of danger with well-placed kicks.

It was the same hard-fought battle that always takes place when the Bears and Saints clash. The deciding factor in favor of California was the ability of the Bears to complete passes in territory guarded by Fred Stennett, St. Mary's candidate for All-American honors, around whom whom not a single forward pass was completed last season.

U. C. Advantage
California had the advantage in the first quarter, making four first downs to St. Mary's none. In the second quarter the Saints made six first downs and California could not make one.

The Bears came back strong in the third period with four first downs compared with two for St. Mary's, and in the last period California was almost entirely on defensive as St. Mary's made three first downs.

Both teams were nervous in the first quarter and the only approach to scoring was by California, the Bears once reaching their opponents 40-line line and later reaching the 20-yard mark.

Punt Blocked
A blocked punt by Dick Barrett of St. Mary's in the second quarter paved the way to the first touchdown by St. Mary's.

This gave St. Mary's the ball on the 20-yard line. Stennett then passed to Harry Edging, and Stennett hit the line for eight, Barrett failed to gain. Then Toscani started around California's right end, spun and cut through tackle, over the goal line.

Schalldach's 40-yard pass to Ralph Stone put St. Mary's on the defensive immediately in the third period, and late in this quarter California started its drive for the much-needed touchdown.

Pass Used
Schalldach passed 31 yards to Avery, giving California a first down on St. Mary's 45-yard line. A bullet pass from Schalldach was then caught by Stone for a gain of 40 yards, giving the Bears the ball on the Saints' 11-yard line.

Two bucks at the line by Schalldach brought six yards, and then Schalldach hurried a short pass to Avery across the goal line.

Leading by one point California fought desperately in the last period and twice Augustus Castro, substitute back for California, intercepted Stennett's passes that might have resulted in touchdowns.

Threat Ended
One minute before the game ended the stands went wild as Stennett's pass to Bill Beasley was good for 40 yards, putting the ball on California's 31-yard line, and being immediately followed by a penalty against California for interfering with a pass receiver, which put the ball on the Bear's 18-yard line.

At this exciting moment Stennett, trying to pass, fumbled and Nicholas Bican, California tackle, recovered to end St. Mary's last threat.

Cardinals In Scoreless Tie With Gophers

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 11.—UP—An invigorating Minnesota team met everything Coach Pop Warner's Stanford eleven could offer today and battled to a scoreless tie in their intersectional classic.

Twice—near the end of each half—Stanford, rated as one of the Pacific Coast premier football aggregations, placed the ball within inches of the goal line. Each time the Minnesota's line held for downs, then punted out of danger.

Stanford had made a first down with a pass and a line play a few minutes before the first half ended. The ball was on Minnesota's 7-yard line. Stanford attempted to break through the Minnesota line for four downs. They failed. Minnesota used several line plays to finish the half, which ended scoreless.

In the fourth quarter, a forward and lateral pass, Rother to Neill, to Moffatt put the ball on Minnesota's 7-yard line again. Stanford had run the ball down on this play from midfield. Stanford seemed destined to score a touchdown.

Moffatt plunged to Minnesota's 2-yard line. On the fourth down, Moffatt drove again to within a few inches of a touchdown.

It was Minnesota's ball. Munn dropped back of his goal line to punt to his 25-yard line where Moffatt was stopped with less than a yard gained. The Cardinal never again threatened to score.

Society NOTES

SORORITY IS ORGANIZED IN RICHMOND

The Alpha Tau chapter of the Delphian club is now to begin its first term under the legislation of a recent elected corps of officers. Those who comprise the executive board are: Mrs. Joseph T. Deane, president; Mrs. James T. Narbett, vice president; Mrs. W. H. McCoy, secretary and Mrs. J. Waldo Bumgarner Jr., treasurer.

The three members of the advisory board are: Mrs. Myrtle McIntosh, Mrs. A. J. Furrer and Mrs. Francis Kent.

An extensive and worthwhile course of study has been adopted and will be directed by Mrs. Lena Gobie, Pacific Coast director of the Delphian society.

Friday, October 24, has been the date set for the next meeting which will convene in the Richmond clubhouse at 9:45 a. m.

Officers have not been elected for the Beta Psi section of the society organized for the convenience of the business and professional women. The chapter meetings are to be held the first and third Fridays of the month and will convene in the evening. Mrs. Helen Kingsbury and Mrs. Emily Axtell have led in the organization of this section.

FRANK MATHIS, BRIDE START HONEYMOON

Following a quiet wedding which took place in Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mathis are now en route to Oregon for a two week's honeymoon tour.

The ceremony was witnessed by only members of the two immediate families and was followed by an informal luncheon which took place at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mathis of 2322 Garvin avenue.

Mrs. Mathis is the former Marjorie Moses, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Moses of Pinole. Both young people are well known here having received their education in the Richmond schools.

Upon their return they will establish their home in Alvarado avenue. San Pablo. Mathis is employed with the powder manufacturing plant at Giant.

We wash blankets in Lux

We give blankets the very safest care—we wash them in Lux. Leading authorities agree that Lux is safest—keeps fabrics looking like new twice as long. Why bother with the tiresome task of washing heavy blankets at home, when a phone call to us will relieve you of this trouble. Include blankets in your next bundle, and see how soft and fluffy we return them.

Greets War Hero

Hoover Plans Business Law Attack Soon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—UP.—Relaxing of the stringent regulatory laws which the government has clamped down on business may be recommended by President Hoover to congress when it convenes here in December.

The executive now is planning to devote a portion of his annual message at the opening of the congressional session to an analysis of how the anti-trust, railroad and other laws have worked against the advancement of the oil, bituminous coal, railroad and other industries, the United Press was informed today.

The recommendation probably will take the form of a request of the house and senate to investigate the workings of these laws with a view to correcting any possible defects, without, of course, repealing the protection afforded the people against unfair or unjust trade practices.

It will follow the hints dropped in his recent speeches that he was not satisfied with the way the transportation act has prevented the railroads from expanding their construction program during the current depression, as well as his suggestion that the anti-trust laws might be responsible for creating destructive competition in the bituminous coal industry. He did not then mention the oil industry although he is understood to have it in mind.

The president's friends say he believes these defects may be corrected without in any way interfering generally with the structure of the laws which prevent clandestine agreements among corporations to restrain trade and boost prices. His thought, however, has not yet taken such definite lines that he is prepared to recommend a specific way in which his idea is to be accomplished, so he will leave the detailed working out of the project to congress.

National Dairy Show Opened

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—UP.—Gates of the St. Louis arena swung open today for the national dairy show, which for eight days will attract thousands of farmers here, due to such attractions as 1400 pedigreed cattle, thousands of hens with egg laying records, and champion saddle horses.

Among the unusual features of this year's show are contests to select the champion dairy maid of America, the best looking baby, a butter churning champion, and a milkmaid who can milk longer than any of her sex. This "milkmaid marathon" will be one of the chief features of the show.

Cash awards totaling $25,000 will go to class winners in the entire exhibition, the crowning event of which will be to select the purple ribbon winner—champion of champions.

Breeders' and Poultry Men's association will hold their annual meetings during show week, and boys and girls from 4-H clubs throughout the country will compete in judging contests.

Besides a better baby show, to be held in connection with the National Dairy Show, there will be home exhibits, designed to aid the farm wife in her domestic work, and guinea pig and rabbit displays.

"Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" will be the subject of the lesson sermon today in all churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Mass.

The citations which comprise the lesson-sermon will include the following from the Bible: "My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up. For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness; neither shall evil dwell with thee. For thou, Lord, wilt bless the righteous; with favor wilt thou compass him as with a shield" (Pss. 5:3, 4, 12).

The lesson-sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sin, sickness and death are comprised in human material belief, and belong not to the divine mind. They are without a real origin or existence. They have neither principle nor permanence, but belong, with all that is material and temporal, to the nothingness of error, which stimulates the creation of truth" (p. 286).

MODEL CITY AT HOOVER DAM PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—UP—The ideal city—from the viewpoint of the prohibitionist and moral reformer—soon will be laid out by government engineers near the site of Hoover Dam, out in the once wild and woolly west.

This community minus the bootlegging, racketeering and dens of iniquity that supposedly cling with barnacle-like tenacity to most of the nation's metropolises, is to be erected to house the thousand and more workmen and engineers who will labor for 10 years building the mammoth dam.

A model to the country and to the world, the city, a name for which has not yet been chosen, will be situated on a gently sloping ridge overlooking the dam site and near the artificial lake, about eight or ten miles from Las Vegas, Nev., once the rendezvous of the west's notorious bad men.

Plan to Lease Ground.
To insure actual prohibition, it is the government's plan to rent plots in the town rather than to sell them. Thus if any unlawful act is found to have been committed, a clause in the lease provides that the land shall at once revert to the government and the lease be terminated.

It was with great difficulty that a site for the town, which when completed will probably house some 4,000 to 5,000 inhabitants, was decided upon.

Though no exact plan has yet been decided upon, officials of the interior department said the town would probably be built around a large open square, with administration buildings grouped around one end, residents lining two sides and the other end left unattended.

Of the five possible locations considered, that recommended was the only one that had workable soil. This is an important element to be taken into account as prospective lessees could be counted on to demand ground for lawns and possibly gardens.

Accessible to Railroad.
Accessibility to the railroad and wagon road which will be built from Las Vegas to the dam foundation is another feature which made the recommended site stand out, according to the engineers' reports. The proposed location adjoins the railroad, while the highway approach is nearly on the level with the road as now routed.

With an ideal view, practically unlimited space, excellent sewage disposal facilities, low temperatures, easy access to highways and railroad, the government's model city gives promise of being one of the showplaces of the country. Work on the viceless community will be begun early in the spring of 1931, according to present plans of interior department officials.

HEALTH AIDED BY OWNING HOME

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—UP—The man who owns his home is apt to be a healthier individual than the man who rents his living quarters, according to Dr. H. L. Rockwood, health commissioner of Cleveland.

Writing in a series of articles for the National Association of Real Estate Boards, Dr. Rockwood pointed out that peace of mind plays an important part in the health of the modern man. The home owner has a sense of security lacking to the renter, he declared, and is apt to be free from much of the nerve strain that gives the tenant indigestion, insomnia, depression and bad quarters, of course, but very frequently they are not, Rockwood said in drawing a picture of the renter, often not liking his habitat, out in quest of amusement, night, eating the wrong foods in restaurants and worried because he is getting nowhere financially.

Leader Returns From Congress Of S. A. Group

As official representative of the Salvation Army for the United States under appointment of Commander Evangeline Booth, one of 15 special delegates appointed by President Herbert Hoover, Col. Arthur Smeeton, men's social secretary for the western territory, has returned from attending the international prison congress held in the ancient city of Prague, the capital of Czechoslovakia.

"To sit through a week's conference attended by 60 delegates from all parts of the world, making a technical study of crime, listening to discussions, debates and speeches on criminals, is a most interesting experience," said Colonel Smeeton.

Unlike some human failings, crime knows no frontiers, race or creed. We are all still the children of the Garden of Eden, and from the records produced by the ministers of justice of the sovereign nations, neither Christianity, Buddhism nor Mohammedanism have yet influenced all of their adherents to go straight.

"The first meeting of the international penitentiary congress was held in London in 1872—let it be noted in passing that this is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, of all international. Long before the League of Nations was conceived or the Trade Union and Socialist International were born, the governments of the civilized world took action to secure contact with each other with a view of learning how to handle sinners against society.

"They knew too well that this issue was unlike problems connected with merchandise, tariffs, wages, hours of labor or maternity or child welfare.

"At the last congress the Salvation Army had 15 delegates present from all parts of the world. The personnel of the 600 delegates included the leading jurists, judges and professors of penal law in Europe. The confusion of languages slowed down discussion somewhat, but general deliberations were entered into on all important questions.

"The Salvation Army took the lead in advocating the application of Christianity as a solution for sin. To all crime tendencies the Salvation Army applies the highest law of the love of Christ. If a man has fallen, let him be uplifted. If he is wounded, let him be healed. If he has wronged others, let the wrong be recognized by law, but let the wrongdoer be redeemed by grace. Let Christ on the Cross still speak to the criminal in the cell.

"It was most pleasing that of all religious bodies on earth, only the Salvation Army was honored by representation in the international conference. Our many years of prison reform work, of course, made such a contingency unavoidable.

"Recognition of the Salvation Army application of christianity to the solution of crime has been brought out in a striking way by Captain Richard P. Hobson, head of the narcotic investigators.

HITLER THREAT PROVES WORRY TO GERMANS

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—UP—Germany is in a quandary over the Hitler threat to establish a nationalistic dictatorship by any means in his power. The Hitler agitation could be minimized by the government if Hitler were expelled from the country. He is not a German citizen, but an Austrian, which is as if an Englishman were to come to America and establish a political party on the strength of the fact that during the war he fought with American troops.

But the German authorities do not want to be too harsh in dealing with their alien agitator, for there are strong possibilities that his loud revolutionary boasts can be capitalized to Germany's advantage in securing revision of the Versailles peace treaty. If Europe becomes alarmed at the possibility of Germany running amuck in the trail of Hitler, efforts to alleviate the reparations burdens of the German people may meet with large success.

The disquietude in Europe and America which has followed the election success of the Hitlerites has not been lost on the astute statesmen in Berlin. They do not want Hitler to create his own dictatorship and they would make one of their own in preference. Yet they show no aversion to giving Hitler all the freedom he wants to shake his fist at the victors in the World War and talk to them as if he were the victor himself. He could be silenced without difficulty; but, to silence him would be to relieve Europe's anxiety about what may happen in Germany. The German government does not intend to play its enemies' game in that respect, unless drastic action becomes necessary to save Germany from Hitler.

Hitler is like an unmuzzled dog on the leash, showing his teeth to his master's enemies, with the master uncertain whether or not the dog will turn on him. To muzzle the animal would save the master but would also reassure the master's enemies. It cannot have escaped the memory of Germany's statesmen that Austrians are irresponsible and incompetent. It was Austria's dispute with Serbia that started the World War, and it was Germany's alliance with Austria that permitted the German war lords to carry their country into the conflict. Had Austria not misjudged the situation in 1914, Germany would not now be in her present plight.

Hitler, the Austrian, is showing traits of character resembling those of Austria 16 years ago. It is inconceivable that Germany would be mad enough to follow his leadership after the lesson of 1914. Astute statesmanship in Berlin may be able to use Hitler for the Fatherland's eventual benefit, if he is not allowed to go too far. Should the muzzle remain off, however, and the dog break the leash, Germany will be bitten herself, and by more than the Hitler dog of war, in the resulting scrimmage.

RETIREMENT OF WALSH SEEN BY WRITER

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—UP—Public sentiment against prohibition in Montana is likely to result next month in the retirement from public life of United States Senator Thomas J. Walsh, veteran Democratic leader, according to a survey of Montana politics by William G. Shepherd, associate editor of Collier's.

"There is an intensely bitter feeling in Montana against prohibition," Shepherd declared. "The state prohibition law was killed in 1925 by a wet vote of 53 per cent. In a 1928 referendum this percentage against prohibition increased. How much farther the voters will go this year is more important to them than being Republicans or Democrats is anybody's guess. The booze issue has swelled until it crowds every other issue off the platform.

Senator Walsh, Democratic and dry, is opposed by Judge Albert Galen, Republican and wet. The fight between these two men is characterized by Shepherd as "one of the most most interesting and enlightening in the United States." Senator Walsh, he said, "does not drink, never was drunk, and it is safe to say will go to his grave without drinking—what's more, he doesn't hold with other people's drinking—he's against the use of alcohol and has so declared himself." On the other hand, he declared, "Judge Galen is fully as wet as Senator Walsh is dry, both personally and politically—he has never made any bones about taking a drink when he wanted it.

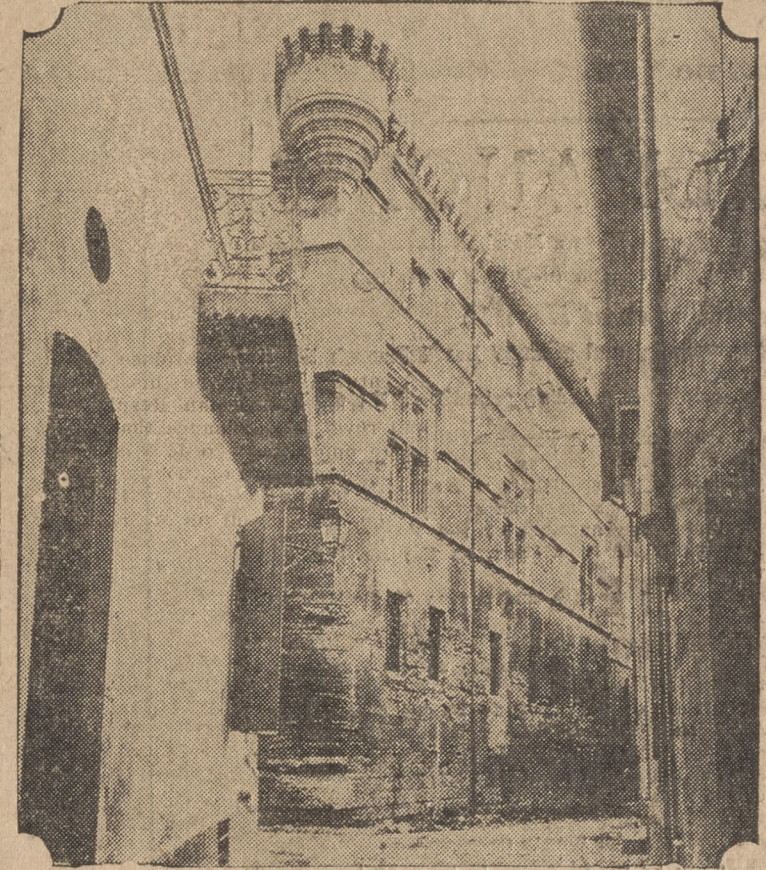

Shepherd explained the background of the Montana situation and the trials and tribulations of prohibition from its inception in Montana through the passage of a state law in 1916 in a recent article.

Old Fort To Be Marked By D. A. R. Group

Fort Custer, named in honor of General George A. Custer who, with his Seventh Cavalry, went down to defeat before the Sioux Indians in the battle of the Little Big Horn, was the base of military operations in the early days.

From this point, troops watched over the safety and progress of those traveling the old Bozeman Trail, which headed north through the Little Big Horn valley, the fort being abandoned in the late 30's. Fort Custer in the early days was one of the largest military posts of the northwest.

BOYS LEAD IN BIRTHS DURING SEPTEMBER

Boys led girls in the number of births reported here in September, according to a statement made yesterday by Dr. C. R. Blake, city health commissioner.

Twelve boys were born in Richmond during the month, while only five girls were born.

September, 1930, compares very poorly with September of past years in the matter of births, according to health department records. The files show that while only 17 births were recorded this year, 35 were recorded in September 1929, 27 in 1928 and 29 in 1927.

The birth list for September is as follows:

ATKINS—Sept. 17 to the wife of T. Atkins, daughter.
VAVIGLIA—Sept. 10, to the wife of J. Vaviglia, son.

THE WOMAN OF IT

By Marguerite Moore Marshall

A Defense of Beauty

THAT low, thunderous, moanin' and groanin' heard through the five boroughs of New York recently.

Was the assembled, scolding grumble of the city's husbands and fathers.

Who have read that ten thousand men and women—Representatives of fashion magazines, manufacturers, jobbers, beauty specialists and cosmetic schools—Are meeting in the American Beauty Congress, Held under the auspices of the Beauty Industries Manufacturers' Association, at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

To consider new ways and means of glorifying the American woman.

By making her more beautiful—and more EXPENSIVE! Of course, it is the men who pay a large proportion of the beauty bills.

Sent out by what is said to be the fourth largest American industry.

Bills estimated at $800,000,000 for cosmetics annually. And at $1,100,000,000 more for applying them—

Making the grand total of the high cost of beauty amount to $1,900,000,000! It won't come any cheaper next year.

To judge from the plans of the American Beauty Congress—

The newest trick, in beauty, will be the matching of costume, complexion, coiffure.

In one perfect ensemble.

At a luncheon fashion show, tomorrow, a hairdresser and makeup to match every gown will be exhibited—

The Beauty Congress will emphasize that, in order to follow the new fashion.

It will be necessary to change both the complexion and the hairdress. As one takes off one gown and slips on another.

You can compute for yourself how many coiffures and complexions. The well-dressed woman must buy—If she is to be beautiful—a model.

"This beauty stuff"—so we heard a grouchy male expostulate the other day—

"Is all the women think about now—They're gone crazy on the subject!" First-off, we'd like to point out. That women who could get away with it have always devoted themselves to being as beautiful as possible.

Just the other day Dr. David M. Robinson and John Hopkins University announced.

That excavations at Olynthus, Greece, proved that Grecian ladies of 300 B. C.

Carried compacts which compare with the present day vanity case.

And used plenty of rouge.

Excavations have shown that cosmetics were also popular with queens of ancient Egypt.

The chief difference, between old times and modern ones, is that nearly all women nowadays.

May use aids to beauty which once were reserved for the aristocratic few.

Beauty has become democratized—and why not?

One result is that the noted English portrait painter, Sir William Orpen, recently declared.

That the most beautiful modern girls are to be found among the workers. Then it seems to us that men are decidedly unjust.

To object to women's efforts to be beautiful.

When these efforts are all directed primarily to pleasing MEN!

They're so darned busy about how women look—

They want to marry beauty, to employ beauty, to take beauty out to dinner!

How many men would choose, either as wife or stenographer.

A woman unashamedly wrinkled, stout and bald?

Yet women love and marry such men. And certainly never dream of subjecting their employers to a beauty test!

It was Byron who wrote, ecstatically: "She walks in beauty like the night 'Of cloudless climes and starry skies.'"

It was Pope who pointed out, emphatically:

"And beauty draws us with a single hair."

So it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be—

Then, since woman's success in life, in love and in self-support is so dependent.

On her looking as beautiful as possible.

Isn't it simply the part of wisdom for her to use art to complement nature?

To go for her beauty, when nature fails, to the specialists who deal in the commodity?

Self-preservation is nature's first law. And what every woman knows nowadays is that looks are half her battle!

Men may grumble at the price of being beautiful—

But the price of being homely is something no woman will pay, unless she must.

entirely new way to cook potatoes. It was demonstrated last week at the Home Making Center and I am sure that everyone who was present has already introduced this dish to her family and friends. The potatoes are crisp and buttery, tender and delicious. Even stubborn children who resent eating anything they have been told they ought to like, find themselves actually liking potatoes when they are cooked this way.

BELGIAN POTATOES

5 large potatoes
4 tablespoons butter
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Peel and slice the potatoes very thin. Let stand in cold water until about twenty-five minutes before serving time, then drain, dry and arrange in a buttered casserole or glass baking dish. Have the butter quite soft, or melt it. Add salt, paprika and lemon juice to the butter. Pour one-half of this mixture over the potatoes and put them in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for ten minutes.

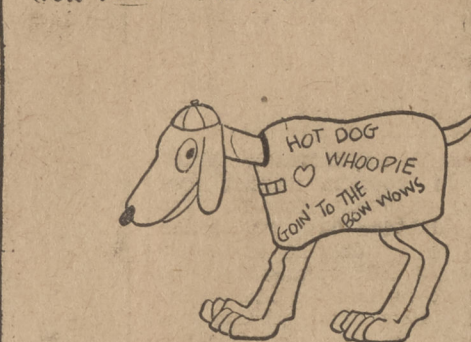

At this time stir them around lightly with a fork and add the remaining butter mixture. Continue baking for about fifteen minutes, or until potatoes are lightly browned. Serve from dish in which they were baked so that they will be very hot.

COAT OF BLACK NUBBLY TWEED WITH KRIMMER COLLAR AND CUFFS

A COAT WITH A DEEP YOKE OF GARYAK

ANOTHER BLACK DRESSY COAT TRIMMED WITH LONGER HAIRER FUR

CHECKED TWEED COAT FOR TOWN OR COUNTRY WEAR

THIS year there is no excuse in the world for looking like everyone else in your new winter coat. There's a design for every individuality, each as different as day is from night. Standardization seems to have sung its farewell aria and now we have coats for personalities.

Haven't you heard the well-worn plaint of the woman with a mediocre coat: "I couldn't find a thing that was really becoming. All the coats were made this way and I simply had to take what I could get." Well, that line today is just hokey. There's a coat for you. It may take a still hunt to find it, but the end will be worth while. You will have the satisfaction of knowing that you are dressing your type and find dress peace or forgetfulness of self, which is really what good dressing amounts to.

Three Classes of Coats

FIRST there is the dressy all black coat trimmed with some precious fur. That fur is decidedly the best as against the longer haired pelts though blue and silver fox must still be recognized as a high fashion.

Second, there is the very softly finished tweedy coat designed for wear in or out of town. This again is trimmed with some flat fur—krimmer in gray, brown or black, Persian lamb, black lapin. Longer haired furs are done in this connection when they are natural wolf or undyed lynx.

Third, there is the out and out country coat of some very rough checked or plaided tweed. It looks hand-woven and is soft enough to be crushed in the hand—never stiff and boardy looking. Many of the most attractive ones are fur-lined. Now, don't shudder, for these, too, are handled so that the shaved goatskin or lapin linings are as soft as any fabric and refuse absolutely to look like that ancient fur-lined with its unresisting lines and bulky look. Your figure shows its curves in the modern warm country coat quite as blithely as it does in any other.

Flares in Favor

FLAJES are still good—surprisingly so—and the skirt lengths of all these coats come down to within thirteen inches of the floor. They cover the dresses completely, giving that covered-up, all-over look that is right for real winter weather.

The waistlines are high and quite defined with belts that tie or buckle. For sport coats or those meant for real outdoor wear there is a broad raglan look to the shoulders and a flare line from there down.

Dresser coats are made of materials that are quite nubby and rough, but which still, oddly enough, are softer looking than for many a winter past. You will find these coats made in broadcloth, but don't have one unless you just must, because that material cannot help but be a bit too stiff for the ultra modern silhouette. Suede cloth is better or anything with that softer, more pliable look to it.

Fur Has a New Manner

Fur trimmings are doing all sorts of new and different things. There is the bolero jacket (I told you about this much earlier in the season) to be worn in severely cold weather over a coat that can be used plain before

Make the Best of The "Shower"

THERE seems to be some question as to the status of the "shower" tendered to the engaged girl in anticipation of her approaching marriage. Are they or are they not in good form—these parties called "showers" at which each guest is expected to bring a gift?

Suppose we say that it is an individual matter. If the engaged girl's coterie of friends feel that they would like to have a "shower," there is really nothing to be said against it, but it does seem unnecessary. Why not concentrate on some particularly appropriate wedding gift, for the shower is not supposed to take the place of obligations in that direction, but holds a position of its own in the list of festivities.

I have heard of two or three of these parties that made an appeal because of their distinction. One was a book shower when each guest presented the bride-to-be with a book or, as it turned out, a year's subscription to a magazine. As in almost every instance, the choice of book shower had been given to it, the party was delightful and the books much appreciated. The presentations were made by a clever young man who "knew books" and gave a little talk about each in turn, all of which helped along. The second shower really was unique. Each guest was asked to bring "one of her treasures." It might be something old or, I suppose, even worn, but some object that she herself had once owned and treasured.

One girl brought a lovely Persian scarf, and the note accompanying it—It was one of the rules that an explanatory note should be written and tucked in with the gift—said that an "old bear" had given it to her but that it did not suit her and so she had never worn it, and as the bear had been discarded long since, she would pass it on with all the sentiment, etc., etc. Any number brought lovely pieces of old jewelry, and one splinter, for the elders took part in this shower, gave as her offering some quaint old andirons. So you see here was a shower that was "different" and had a worthwhile object in being.

Repairing the Linoleum

A HOUSEWIFE dropped a stove-lid on the floor, and when she lifted it she discovered to her dismay, that the imprint of the entire lid was scorched into the linoleum.

The man of the house came to her rescue. He nearly cut out a square around the scorched portion, then mended this accurately with a piece of the linoleum under the kitchen cabinet and cut this out carefully. Of course it matched perfectly in design when fitted into its old-out space. So the damage was effectually repaired, and the scorched piece did not show under the cabinet.

The same method might be employed with worn-out sections of linoleum. There may be no cabinet, but, perhaps, there is a place covered by a rug where a substitute piece may be secured and the rug will conceal the set-in piece that is worn.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

To Emily Post:

Dear Emily—We've just been reading your book on etiquette, and it's more fun than Harold Lloyd. We don't know who elected you to tell us better-class citizens where we get off, but then no one asked Noah Webster to write the dictionary, but he went right ahead just the same.

A couple of paragraphs in your book were great. You say that at a dinner party in a restaurant, it is all right to ask the guests when the host is presented with the check. That may go with the gang you travel with, Emily, but it doesn't embarrass us. In fact, the best part of a restaurant meal is when the waiter comes up and slips the check to anyone so long as it isn't us. No body can embarrass us with that maneuver.

We see in another section of your volume that in smaller homes the butler always takes charge of the wine and silver. Well, not in our smaller home, Emily! We let him handle the silver-plated ware, all right, but I personally handle the gin. We don't have wines to worry about in our menage, unless those ten gallons of fruit juices we got from California turn out to be sauternes instead of vinegar.

You also intimate a lady is supposed to sit behind her tea table every afternoon she is at home. Well, if our little wife (whom we consider a lady) spent all her afternoons at home in back of a tea table, we would raise an awful kick. When do you suppose she'd get around to mending stockings? And I want buttons, not loaf sugar or sliced lemons, sewed on my vest.

We see, in another important chapter, that saucers for vegetables are contrary to all etiquette. Well, you can dump the vegetables right on one large plate if you want to, Emily, but we'll still hold out for an occasional separate dish. If you think we are going to slap a spoon-load of beet on the same plate with mashed potatoes and dye them red, you have got another guess. And we're not going to have the water from summer squash oozing under the roast beef when we can put it in a separate container.

As for your by-law that we should have silver that shines so it dazzles or none at all, we tried that once—just once. The silver shone like the Hope diamond, but everything we ate at that particular dinner tasted of silver polish. We now like our silver more subdued—and tasteful.

It was likewise helpful to read that when a servant answers the door and tells the caller that the mistress is not at home (even if she is), that definitely settles the matter. But you can't convince an installment collector that way. Or a brush salesman.

We note also that while butter plates are used at breakfast, luncheon and supper, they are never set at dinner. Now listen, Emily, if a guy likes bread, why ain't it all right to give it to him at all meals? And with those Soviets selling our wheat short and making things tough for the farmers, you should be encouraging folks to eat bread every meal and not be scaring them with your rules.

We disagree with you about eating corn on the cob and want to state the only way to get the full benefit of a broiled live lobster is to push the meat out with your fingers. But you did give directions for holding a swell, first-class funeral, Emily, and we have ordered one of those.

THIS AND THAT

A New York cashier stole Traffic Court receipts by marking $5 fines down as $3. His defense will be he was only running a cut-rate-ticket agency.

The United States team defeated England's contract bridge experts in London. Another triumph for Harold Vanderbilt and his convention.

Kellogg Elected to World Court. Headline.

Of course you remember Mr. Kellogg. He was Secretary of State and used to sign all our corn flakes.

The Government Bureau of Standards announces that rubber will soon be obtained from petroleum. That's nothing—we've been getting tires from filling stations the last three months.

Dwight Morrow has laid down his portfolio in Mexico. He will next be seen in New Jersey with a brief case containing a campaign speech.

There's a girl up in the Bronx who thinks the Antoinette is a washing machine.

Paulsen's TIPS!
AN OUTSTANDING QUALITY HOME—We have for special sale at right price a brand new 6-room home. It's a beauty and on a corner lot on 35th street, where the altitude is 100 feet above sea level. Large sunken living room, with barrel ceiling. Artistic fireplace. 3 fine bedrooms with good closets. Exquisite tile bath and shower. Spacious kitchen and laundry, with most modern conveniences. Large dining room, and a peachy breakfast room. Hardwood floors, etc. Large convenient double garage. Lawn and shrubbery planted. The neighborhood is select. Soil is sandy loam. Good sidewalks, curbs, gutters and streets, all paid. If you have a few hundred dollars or cash in full we can make a good deal. This is a real place to live in Richmond. We will be glad to show it to you. We don't pester.

RADIO AUDITION WILL BE HELD NEXT MONDAY

Just as Orville Harrold mounted overnight from driving a laundry wagon in Muncie, Indiana to the place of a leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera, and as Marion Talley, through the assistance of Kansas City sponsors, made her grand opera debut while still in her teens, so are some now unknown boys and girls almost certain to be brought to the forefront of America's young singers as a result of the quest for new voices now being conducted throughout the nation, by the Atwater Kent Foundation.

On Monday evening, October 20, starting at 10 o'clock, 44 young girls and boys, between the ages of 18 and 25 years, who have been declared winners in auditions held in their home towns, will be heard over KPO in the northern California state audition. One boy and one girl, will be selected by a combined vote of competent judges and radio audience to represent northern California in the Fifth District Audition, which will also be held over KPO, Monday, November 17.

In fact the musical America of tomorrow may be largely shaped by the talent brought to light by this national radio audition, and already winners of past auditions are making a name for themselves and in all three years of the audition's history, California singers have won first or second places and have brought glory to the "Golden State" as well as fame and fortune to themselves.

The young singers, 22 girls and 22 boys, will arrive in San Francisco Monday morning, October 20, and will be given the use of KPO's studios for rehearsal for the audition. At 6 o'clock they will be entertained at a dinner given in their honor at the Palace Hotel. The KPO Harmonizers, a trio consisting of Hawaiian instruments; Cy Trobbe and his Concert Orchestra, and other outstanding radio artists will be on hand to provide entertainment for the embryo stars.

The young singers who survive in the state and district auditions will be awarded two or one year scholarships in leading American musical conservatories and share in $25,000 cash awards to sustain them during their period of study. From every city represented by ambitious singers, comes word of the excellent voices which are being sent to KPO for the state audition. For some of them, the barriers which so often make it difficult or impossible for talented and aspiring musical genius to secure training and get the recognition necessary to success are, for once, to be wiped away. The door of opportunity will be opened wide to every aspirant, rich or poor, from city, town or farm.

The only limiting qualification will be the voice. For the young man or woman with that "golden gift" the rest will be provided by the Atwater Kent Foundation.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

BRAZIL TROOP TRAIN WRECK REPORTED

Sao Paulo was claimed today by revolutionary headquarters. The state of Sao Paulo has definitely been invaded by revolutionary forces, the headquarters announced, with insurgents from the states of Minas Geraes, which borders on Rio de Janeiro, Parana and Rio Grande de Sul marching on the capital of the nation.

The rebels also announced an attack on federal forces at Florianopolis by the insurgent troops that captured Joinville and San Franço in the state of Santa Catharina. At Florianopolis is the only garrison left in the state.

A communique issued here said thousands of Sao Paulo federal troops had been put to flight before the northward advance of 50,000 insurgents and ten bombing planes along five different routes toward Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro.

Contradicting government reports that the Sao Paulo troops were attacking and holding back rebels from the south, two rebel communiques said that Gen. Miguel de Costa, head of the insurgents in the Parana state region, encountered Sao Paulo federal soldiers at Jacarezinho San Jose de Platina, resulting in the rout of thousands of federals.

Insurgent troops, including police, soldiers and volunteers, also are ready to advance on the capital and Sao Paulo from the central state of Minas Geraes, the communique said, against contradicting the government's announcement of important gains in the key state of Minas Geraes.

The communique said that in addition to the 50,000 men in the northern army, 30,000 others were being organized to march from Rio Grande de Sul.

Rebel leaders insisted their advance troops had entered the states of Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, where they claimed the government strongholds were being slowly hemmed in from two sides, while the few remaining loyal federal garrisons in the southern states have been surrounded or defeated.

The rebel advices said a strong detachment of gaucho troops near the Sao Paulo frontier, were eager for the fray, and added that two cities in the state of Rio de Janeiro—Carvilho Moreira, some 140 miles northeast of the capital, and Itaperuma—were captured. Itaperuma is near the Minas Geraes frontier. It is reported that the government had ordered the destruction of railroad connections with the south if the rebel advance northward continued.

Mattos Peixoto, deposed president of the far northern state of Ceara, was reported to have arrived at Pernambuco today. There were few reports from the northern rebel centers, although the insurgent leaders claimed to control Pernambuco, Alagoas, Parahyba, Rio Grande de Norte, Piahy and Maranhao, while it was presumed the march of rebels of Bahia was continued.

2 Legionnaires In Hospital

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—UP—Former National Commander O. L. Bodenhamer has issued a statement pointing out that despite hospital reports showing that 358 persons were treated for liquor poisoning during the recent American Legion convention, only two Legionnaires were in Boston hospitals yesterday. He added that neither of these was under treatment for alcoholism.

U. S. CRUISER SENT TO ZONE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—UP—One of the navy's newest and most powerful 10,000 ton cruisers, the U. S. S. Pensacola, started south tonight to protect American lives should they be endangered by the Brazilian revolution.

It was learned from a reliable source here the ship will speed to the Brazilian coast, without delay, save for a brief stop at Guantanamo to take on additional fuel.

In announcing the despatch of the warship, the state department said:

"In view of the uncertainty as to the future situation in Brazil, it has been felt prudent to have a ship nearer the zone of disturbance to take off American refugees should such action be necessary for the protection of their lives."

"The Pensacola is therefore being ordered to Guantanamo, which is three days less steaming distance to Brazil than Hampton Roads, where it is at present."

"There are no American naval vessels now in Brazilian waters, and the Pensacola is the only ship being ordered to stand by for this duty. If future developments require it to proceed from Guantanamo to Brazil, it will do so merely to take off Americans whose lives might be in danger. This would be the sole object of its visit to any Brazilian port."

As the Pensacola steamed out of Norfolk, Va., the U. S. S. Northampton passed out beyond the Virginia Capes. The Northampton is the flagship of the cruiser division of the scouting fleet. Its destination was not known at Norfolk.

The Pensacola was launched last year. It is commanded by Capt. A. F. Howe. It carries ten 8-inch guns and an anti-aircraft battery. In addition to its officers and crew, the ship could accommodate 600 American refugees, the navy department estimated.

Naval officers said the Pensacola, which has a cruising speed of 20 knots and a top speed of 33 knots, could reach Brazil in eight days at her normal rate of travel, three of which could be spent in transit to Guantanamo. At top speed the ship could cut a day or two from this estimate.

The destination of the cruiser was not revealed, it was explained, as it would depend entirely upon military developments in Brazil.

Ambassador Gurgil, Do Amaral of Brazil, called on Assistant Secretary of State White, in charge of Latin-American affairs, today, and was informed of the intention to send the Pensacola to Brazil.

Meanwhile, reports reached here that the British and possibly other European nations are dispatching ships to the Brazilian coast to protect their nationals. The British admiralty reportedly has ordered the cruiser Delhi to Brazil.

POSTERS AID IN SAFETY DRIVE

Designed to impress upon the minds of school children the importance of the school traffic reserve as their protection against street accidents, a specially prepared poster and lesson data have been distributed to more than 13,000 classrooms in northern and central California by the public safety department of the California State Automobile association.

The lesson and illustration now being presented in local schools, constitutes the October subject of the safety education program that is sponsored by the motorists' organization in co-operation with the school authorities.

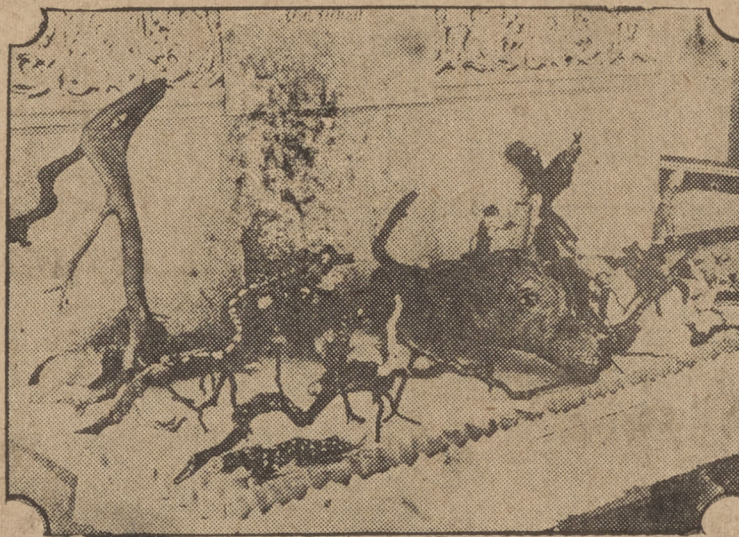

The poster depicts the school boy patrol on duty at a busy intersection conducting their school crossings in groups across the street, while signalling traffic for the right-of-way.

It is pointed out that no fatality involving a school child has occurred at any of the patrolled crossings in this part of the state since the school traffic reserve was organized by the association public safety department.

Close obedience to the directions of the boy patrols by the student body of the various schools is urged in the lesson accompanying the poster, which emphasizes that the traffic reserves are working for the safety and protection of the children who pass their post of duty. The spirit and purpose of the reserve are set forth as follows:

The school traffic reserve, in its relation to the motor vehicle accident problem, is the most effective agency for child safety yet devised. It is reaching and impressing the child mind at a time when youthful energies are most likely to lead children into danger.

The accomplishments of this system are many. The first is deduction of accidents. The second is education of the entire student body in proper street behavior. The third is a strengthening of character and good citizenship in members of the reserve. The fourth is training a future generation of motor car drivers to be safety conscious. The fifth, and not the least, is the knowledge on the part of the parents and the school authorities that the children are receiving this protection.

OCEAN PLANE LANDS AT LONDON

Columbia came to disaster when it was within 10 miles of the English coast. "We almost counted the drops for about five hours before the end of the flight before we knew the gasoline line was clogged."

"It was not a very exciting trip, except a rain storm or two, and the danger of ice forming on the wings of the plane. The motor, which is the same one used when Clarence Chamberlain and Charles Levine flew the Columbia from New York to Germany, worked wonderfully. We flew blind, by dead reckoning, much of the time."

Return Unknown

The fliers said they did not think they would "fly back again just yet."

When the plane landed a crowd of several hundred persons, including Charles Levine, greeted them. The Columbia had left Tresco at 1:01 p. m. (8:01 a. m. EST) and arrived here at 3:55 p. m. (10:55 a. m. EST).

"We're awfully sorry about the R-101," said Conner, as he climbed from the plane. At the hour of the arrival of the American craft, the 48 victims of the dirigible R-101 disaster were being buried in a common grave at Cardington.

Conner was wearing civilian clothes, a tweed suit with a pull-over sweater and a sprig of flowers in his lapel.

"It is due to Boyd's piloting that I'm in London tonight," he said. Boyd threw his arm around the navigator and said: "Don't be foolish, it was due to your navigation."
